

The Indian youth today has several options to satisfy their sexual needs. One can watch pornography, exchange spouses, pay for sex, or have kinky sex. This sex survey gives an insight into the mind of the urban youth and unveils the way he/she thinks about sex.

MUKUL KUMAR
via www.indiatoday.in

Congratulations for covering various aspects of Indian sexuality year after year. However, a sample of 5,353 out of one billion population and 11 out of hundreds of cities does not really do justice to the larger picture. A true representation is elusive as the spread of survey is rather limited. Maybe next year, you can consider widening the horizon. It'll be worthwhile to pick up threads from the first survey, and see what changes have occurred in seven years.

S. R. KOUSHIK, Chennai,
via www.indiatoday.in

Sound and Fury

Margaret Alva's outburst, leading to her removal as party general secretary, is quite sad ("Anger Management", November 24). She is a highly respected Congress leader. This setback comes at a time when talk of Women's Reservation Bill and women's empowerment is on an upswing. She is not the kind of a leader who should be suppressed. We hope the status quo is restored.

MADHU SINGH, Haryana,
via www.indiatoday.in

Three in a Row

Sheila Dikshit is capable of pulling out a hat-trick by winning a third term as chief minister of Delhi ("War of the Veterans", November 24). The Congress must view this as a great advantage rather than suspect her loyalty to overshadow the party. This way,

“The ATS falsely charged Srikant Purohit with supplying RDX to the terrorists. I suspect it's acting under political pressure to link Hindus to almost all the blasts in the country.”

A. SRIKANTALAH, Bangalore

pending development projects in Delhi will be completed smoothly and on time.

S. LAKSHMI RAGHURAM,
via www.indiatoday.in

Plodding Panels

In our country, the prevalent propensity among most of the government office-bearers to misuse the law, privileges and several other facilities seems to have impinged the judicial commissions too ("Commissions of Omission", November 24). However, appropriate steps must be taken so that the judicial commissions are not taken for granted as white elephants, a subject of censure.

INDU SHANKAR, Varanasi,
via www.indiatoday.in

Corrigendum

In the article "The Discovery of India", in the December 8 issue, the current turnover of Moser Baer has been wrongly mentioned as Rs 495 crore. The group's turnover for 2007-08 was Rs 2,100 crore.

30
YEARS AGO IN INDIA
TODAY

JANUARY 1-15, 1979

Weighty Tome

"Over fifty countries and more than half the world's population on your desktop in one square foot of space!" reads the blurb on the publicity brochure. This square foot of space, incidentally, weighs 4.90 kg, contains 3,000 pages and has startling dimensions—length, 28.9 cm; width, 22.2 cm; and a depth of 12 cm. Though it falls well short of the biggest book in the world—the Super Book—the Asian Business Directory, published by Kothari and Sons of Madras, can claim the distinction of being perhaps the largest Indian publication in recent times. The Super Book is, of course, truly super. Its length is 3.07 metres and width 2.74 metres, and it weighs 252.6 kg. It was published in Denver, Colorado, in the US in 1976. But the Kotharis can note with satisfaction that the Super Book has a mere tenth of the total number of pages of the directory. Sreekanth Khandekar

Readers are recommended to make appropriate enquiries before sending money, incurring expenses or entering into commitments in relation to any advertisement appearing in this publication. The India Today Group does not vouch for any claims made by the advertisers of products and services. The printer, publisher, editor-in-chief and the editor of the India Today Group publications shall not be held liable for any consequences in the event of such claims not being honoured by the advertisers.

E-MAIL YOUR LETTERS TO: letters.editor@intoday.com

FAX THEM TO: 011-23316180

OR LOG ON TO: www.indiatoday.in