

We built a brand.
You added the 'super'
in front of it.
Birla White is now a Superbrand.

What does it take to build a brand?

It takes a solid foundation of quality, reliability and the ability to deliver on a promise. Since 1988, Birla White has been building a robust brand on these values. Doubling its capacity within a few years of its launch, it hasn't looked back since.

Today, Birla White is the most preferred white cement brand not only in India, but across 18 other countries. In addition, Birla White has also diversified into a whole array of allied products such as Birla White Wallcare Putty, Birla White Textura, Birla White Kool n Seal, Birla White GRC (Glass Fibre Reinforced Concrete) and Birla White Levelplast.

India's Most Preferred White Cement

What's the secret to the brand's success, you ask? Constant innovation, reliance on cutting-edge technology and strong emphasis on superior quality. In fact, Birla White draws much of its core values from its globally reputed parent company:

the Aditya Birla Group. The company's unwavering focus has enabled it to pick up internationally reputed certifications like the European CE. What's more, Birla White is India's first eco-friendly white cement. Today, the company has an established capacity of nearly 5 lakh tonnes per annum of white cement.

The Super Achiever

From its initial desire to become a brand of repute, to today being acknowledged as a Superbrand, the journey has been a long and satisfying one. But it couldn't have been achieved without you. The goodwill, trust and support of countless Birla White Customers like you, has made this possible. We thank you for your help in building this Superbrand.

My kind of design