

SMS 'greenovation1' to 57007*
now and take the pledge to recycle responsibly.

To be a Greenovator OR not,
is the question. The choice is in your hands.

*Special rates apply.

The Game Changers INDIVIDUALS

KRISHNA KUMAR | 57 DIRECTOR, National Council for Educational Research and Training

BOOKED FOR CHANGE

Sometimes, a teacher does know best. With 38 years of experience, Krishna Kumar's endeavours at the National Council for Educational Research and Training (NCERT) have changed the face of education. He started teaching at Kirori Mal College, Delhi University, in 1971 but shifted gears in 1981, when he joined the Central Institute of Education. The jewel in his crown has been the National Curriculum Framework in 2005 that escalated the percentage of students studying NCERT's textbooks from 3 per cent of India's total in 2004 to 32 today. Introducing non-textual, audio-visual and multi-media material in the curriculum, he has broken the straight-jacket imposed on several subjects. Today, he's working to change the teacher training structure in the country. Using EDUSAT, a satellite for education, the trainers at NCERT interact with teachers, teaching them to use the new tools of learning.

by Purvi Malhotra

"He combines scholarship and action with strong commitment."

Urvashi Butalia, Director, Zubaan

REUBEN SINGH

Education M.A. and Ph.D in Educational Theory from the University of Toronto.

Recent works Battle for Peace, which deepens his earlier work Prejudice and Pride that dealt with history textbooks in India and Pakistan.

Major concern To improve the quality of Class I education as it provides the foundation.