

Hit Hop

Western dancing experts Malou Mey-enhofer (L) and Tim Collins have been lured by Bollywood. Both have been popularising the Lindy Hop and will be choreographing for Tigmanshu Dhulia's Showman. Singer-rapper Hard Kaur and choreographer Savio Barnes performed the dance on Jhalak Dikhhla Ja recently. "We've gone from people thinking it is a person to us choreographing it for a film," says Collins. First Salsa, then Tango and now Lindy Hop. Hindi films have a lot to dance about.

Yes Minister

SP General Secretary Amar Singh is known for his Bollywood buddies. The neta is turning abhineta for the second time after Hamara Dil Aapke Paas Hai. He agreed to do the role of home minister in Chargesheet, produced by actor-director Dev Anand. "I have never been a minister and have no inclination to be one. It's courtesy Dev Sahib that I will become home minister for a day," Singh said to the media. Hit or miss? Polling starts now.

YASBANT NEGI

"I went on a diet, stayed away from my mother who feeds me a lot and started a relationship with my treadmill. I shed all the extra kilos."

Babul Supriyo, singer, on the preparation for his role in the Bengali film Ogo Bodhu Sundari

LEADING LADY

Indira Varma is remembered for her role in Kama Sutra: A Tale of Love. Now, after appearing in bit roles on American shows like Rome and Bones, the British-Indian actor has landed the lead in a new ABC series, Inside the Box, created by Grey's Anatomy's Shonda Rhimes. Varma plays Catherine, a producer at a Washington network news bureau. According to the Hollywood Reporter, Catherine is "fast-talking, whip-smart and wound a little too tight for her own good".
