CREATE AND FLOURISH

THEY EXPLORE every facet of creativity whether it's the buildings they envisage or the songs they form or perform on the silver screen. Whether it's an actor who has transcended mediums and languages, a little music band from Kerala that has merged elements of rock and folk music, a young filmmaker who left the US to give Bengali cinema a new lease of life or a promoter of new music talent, who has created a record label to tap desi rock, these young people have redefined cool and reinvented careers. Take the young sales professional who swapped a fat pay packet for a tiny eco-friendly shop or the architect couple whose visionary thinking is changing the way urbanites live. From Lakhimpur Kheri in Uttar Pradesh and Surat in Gujarat, from Ernakulam in Kerala and Rawatbhata in Rajasthan, they are burning up the screen, big and small, with their talent. Hungry for success and willing to work 24x7, they are translating random dreams into enviable lifestyles. They are the change they believe in.

"I'M VERY FINICKY WHEN IT COMES TO SAYING yes to a film. The script, my role, the director, the banner and my co-actors all have to be perfect."
