SIMI GAREWAL

RENUKA SHAHANE

MANDIRA BEDI

Bollywood and television personalities Simi Garewal, Renuka Shahane and Mandira Bedi talked about their lives in the Britannia Make (Pure) Magic With The Stars hour and relived their most special moments...

GOOD FOOD ZONE

SHATBHI BASU

Celebrity mixologist Shatbhi Basu stirred up showstopping cocktails. Visitors got also tips from celebrity TV chef Marut Sikka, chocolatier Abha Kohli, pastry chef Kishi Arora and home caterers Kamla Lal, Komal Nagpal and Vibhuti Taimni, and GH columnists DJ Singh and Nina Kochhar.

GOOD HEALTH ZONE

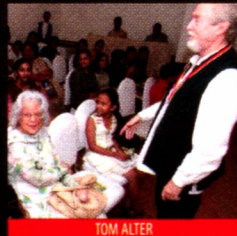

ISSAC MATHAI

Holistic naturopath Dr Issac Mathai gave remedies for common ailments. Other experts included nutritionist Ishi Khosla, cardiologist Dr JPS Sawhney on heart care, orthopaedic Dr Sushil Sharma on bone health and paediatrician Dr Shikha Mahajan on immunisation for your child.

GOOD FAMILY ZONE

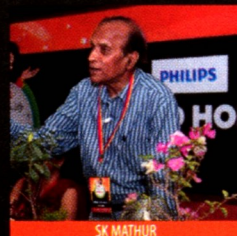

TOM ALTER

Tom Alter regaled the audience with quips and anecdotes, allowing a free rein at his theatre workshop, while Ajay Rajgarhia and Malavika Tiwari held interactions on photography and stained-glass art as potential hobbies. Dr Amit Sen gave insights into parenting for teens.

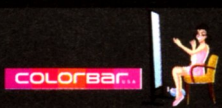

GOOD HOME ZONE

SK MATHUR

SK Mathur gave the "recipe" for a tray garden. Guests also got tips on hygiene and organising their closets from GH columnist DJ Singh, the importance of clean drinking water from dietician Ritika Samaddar, cutting time in the kitchen by cookbook author Anila Bali and much more.

GOOD LOOKS ZONE

SHALINI SINGH

Make-up workshops by ColorBar, nail art, makeovers, skincare consultancy and treatments by Skin Alive, haircuts and styling were the order of the day. Virtual makeover and kissology counters by cosmetic company Mary Kay also drew huge crowds.

Stalls by Herbalife, Veetee, Henkel, Oriflame, Kitchens of India, Goodricke Tea and Himalaya, besides zone sponsors Britannia, Philips and ColorBar, drew visitors in droves. There were many fun activities: Britannia held a sandwich-making contest while Philips had an ironing contest. Each guest went home with loads of gifts and goody bags.
