

High and Mighty: Power List 2009

MARCH 16, 2009

The new club of the power elite, still dominated by moguls and mavens, is a celebration of India's creative brio as well.

“Kudos to the undaunting spirit of these achievers. They have moulded and shaped the identity of modern India with their excellence. We need more of their ilk to make India a global leader.”

SHYAM SINGH, via www.indiatoday.in

Powerful People

The high and mighty, whether at home or abroad, have done us proud with their accomplishments. Irrespective of their wobbly ranks, they will always strive to do their best. Their presence will influence and inspire others to deliver their best and help make India a better place.

Dr SANJIV GUPTA,
via www.indiatoday.in

Prakash Karat's omission from the list of those who matter the most in the political landscape of the country was surprising. Keeping in mind the role that the Third Front will play in the formation of the next government, it was quite unfortunate to see his exclusion. He can make or break many political futures, a fact that the high and mighty

Eastern Disturbance

THE ISI's alleged hand in instigating a mutiny in Bangladesh and the plot to assassinate Sheikh Hasina indicates Pakistan's sinister role in creating turmoil in the region ("More Than a Mutiny", March 16). India and Bangladesh need to draw the world's attention towards Pakistan's nefarious designs.

VIRENDRA TANGRI, via www.indiatoday.in

The mutiny had been in the making for some time now. Poorly paid with few service benefits, BDR personnel indulge in every possible corrupt and criminal practice like facilitating illegal migration and cattle-smuggling, drug-peddling and even trafficking of women and children. They are willing to do anything and everything for a price. So this mutiny wasn't surprising.

J. AKSHAY, via www.indiatoday.in across the board in political circles know well. The clout that he enjoys among those who are against the Congress and the BJP is undisputable and quite intimidating.

A. JACOB SAHAYAM,
via www.indiatoday.in

Let us stop bragging about the top 20 Indians who have made waves overseas. The list provides little cheer. It highlights our inferiority complex and gives us enough food for thought to ponder over the reasons why these people managed to succeed in other countries and not in their land of birth.

Dr SURESH N. KARKHANIS,
via www.indiatoday.in

Terror Trauma

The strike on the Lankan cricket team in Lahore and the easy escape of the

FOR SUBSCRIPTION ASSISTANCE, CONTACT: Customer Care, India Today Group, A-61, Sector-57, Noida (Uttar Pradesh)-201301.

Phones: 2479900 from Noida, 95120-2479900 from Delhi and Faridabad, and 0120-2479900 from Rest of India.

Toll Free No.: 1800 1800 100. Fax: 0120-4078080. E-mail: wecare@indiatoday.com