

INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT

A state where both the government and the private sector entities invest has a better investment environment. Moreover, lower levels of sickness, better labour climate and the availability of skilled manpower are critical elements. Consequently, we include Government capital expenditure on a per capita basis, per capita commercial bank credit and gross capital formation in the manufacturing sector (both private and public sector entities) on a per capita basis. The inverse of sick ssis as a share of total ssis reflects conditions of smaller units in the state. Industrial disputes per industrial unit captures the labour relations climate; and the number of industrial workers as a share of urban working age population captures the availability of a base which can be further built upon.

PUNJAB

PROGRESSIVE BY NATURE

History has a way of repeating itself. The adage gains special significance in case of Punjab, which, thanks to the seeds sown over the time, is reaping rich dividends today. With Punjab emerging as the best overall state since 2003, Deputy Chief Minister Sukhbir Singh Badal attributes its repeated success to Punjabis being "aggressive and progressive by nature". The sentiment is echoed by Industries and Commerce Minister Manoranjan Kalia. "I marvel at the entrepreneurship of our people. We have no iron ore but have a successful steel industry in Mandi Gobindgarh, no wool but a booming hosiery industry in Ludhiana, no willow but a renowned sports industry in Ludhiana."

HIMACHAL PRADESH IS THE FASTEST MOVER (2003-09) Improved budget management and exemptions in excise duty to attract multinational investors have helped the state boost investments.
