

UTTARAKHAND IS THE FASTEST MOVER

(2003-09) On the back of an improved investment climate and stable macro economic environment, the hilly state retains its position in the top five since 2004.

AN EVENLY IRRIGATED PUNJAB IS THE LEADER IN FARM PRODUCTION

The strong foundation for Punjab's success was laid decades back. The headstart in agriculture apart, a vast network of roads built in the state has kept villages connected to cities and mandis. The state, however, is cash-strapped, with debts mounting to Rs 40,000 crore, a falling standard of education and a poor power situation. Badal, though, refuses to take the blame. "What could not be achieved in six decades we have done in just two. We are working to add capacity with four thermal power plants in Talwandi Sabo, Rajpura, Gidderbaha and Goindwal Sahib," he says.

Kalia touts the passing of the Special Economic Zone (SEZ) Act, approval to 16 SEZs and 49 mega projects sanctioned since March 2007, adding that these will bring in an investment of Rs 36,574 crore. "From No. 23, we have climbed to No. 3 in VAT collection," says Badal. "When we came to power, we were

PRIMARY EDUCATION

Basic education deals with elementary schooling in a state. Literacy—the ability to read and write—remains the very basic measure of education and literacy rate captures precisely this. That, however, does not capture quality of primary schooling (uptil Grade V in most states); the proportion of children who have completed primary schooling by the right age is one measure of the quality of schooling. The teacher to pupil ratio is another. The female child continues to face biases at home and outside, and the female to male student ratio in elementary schools captures this facet of education in India. Overall, however, state expenditure on elementary schooling for each child in the state in the 6 to 14 year age group reflects the importance given by the state in ensuring education for all.
