

DUDES, DANDIES AND BAD BOYS

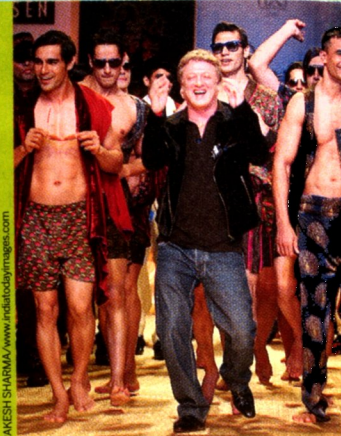

It was raining men at the Van Heusen India Mens Fashion Week in Delhi last week, an event for which Men's Health was the official media partner.

Most gawked at Trust Rohit Bal to spice it up. The audience, including the prissy front row, hooted when his Badmash team stripped down to their silken undies.

Anti-climax of the week To everyone's surprise, Salman Khan, the king of bare chests, was happy just doffing his jacket at Ashish Soni's show.

Fashion fiends off the ramp Businessman Navin Ansal gave the bronzed bodies some serious competition when he arrived on his Harley Davidson. Restaurateur A.D. Singh played dress-up in a white suit and fedora hat.

Overheard in the spa lounge Eight-pack models discussing hair, skin and waist-lines. We think it's time to stop blaming the women.

Cart Blanch

MPs deciding to get real might just do the common man some good. Samajwadi Party MP Jaya Prada recently got a taste of the miseries faced by people of her constituency, Rampur. The actor-politician set out on a bullock-cart ride on flooded roads but hit a roadblock, quite literally. Her cart toppled to one side when it hit a ditch on the muddy road, leaving her scared and in tears. The MP has now promised to get a concrete road built as soon as possible. We know what the people are thinking: only if this had happened sooner.

WHY KNOT

Three decades after sizzling on screen as a couple in Hulchul, Zeenat Aman and Kabir Bedi will be coming together for Sanjay Sharma's Dunno Y... Naa Jaane Kyun. Art imitates life as the story revolves around a couple reuniting after 20 years. "Working with Kabir was pleasant," says Aman. Will the film turn out to be timeless?

Q&A

"I'm sure Sachin will want to campaign"

Vinod Kambli will be contesting the Maharashtra assembly elections on a Third Front ticket from Vikhroli. Here's the truth again.

Q. Why choose a small party like Lokbharti?

A. I was offered a ticket by big parties. I liked Lokbharti's ideology. It comprises teachers who fought against injustice.

Q. Won't the Sach ka Saamna episode affect votes?

A. It took a lot of courage to speak the truth on air. I don't think I said anything wrong. The media made a big fuss of it.

Q. Will Sachin Tendulkar campaign for you?

A. I'm going to try to convince Sachin to campaign. I'm sure he would want to. He has to be in the country, of course.
