■ What are your present plans?

We have recently started a centre in South Delhi to provide eye care in South Delhi and NCR. We are also planning to establish a separate R & D department dedicated to research in eye diseases. I am also working towards establishing wet labs to train eye doctors in cataract surgery and enlarging our network for charitable eye services.

■ What is your ultimate dream?

I have a dream that no citizen goes blind, and to provide proven cutting-edge technology in eye care to all. I am giving my best shot to achieve it.

■ How do you feel about being the first Indian ophthalmologist to conduct an eye camp in Lebanon in 2007?

Well it was a fantastic experience and a matter of pride and honour for me and the Institute to be chosen for such a noble cause under the flag of United Nations (UNIFIL). We treated over 1000 Lebanese, mostly women and children. It was a very gratifying experience and hope I can provide similar such services in the future.
