

HIGH STABILITY

The latest edition of Hexride collection from Reebok is available in 25 different models. The designs feature a unique hexagonal, honeycomb-style build, which is one of the top strength-to-weight ratios that gym shoes can offer. While the hexagons impart stability, the air-filled capsules offer cushioning—the premium combination for an athlete's foot in motion. Look good while you sweat it out. Price: Rs 4,599 up.

SPORTY FASHION

Puma's fashionable Black Label line offers style in every step. If you are into sporty fashion, go for these.

Price: Rs 8,999 and above.

Sporting a unique look, Adidas Boost is for recreational runners. This stylish piece is priced at Rs 4,999. Another pick (below) is the Adidas Porsche Design, at Rs 5,299.

GYMMING REGULARS

Weighing only 250 gm Adidas Forest Hill is the lightest tennis shoe in the world. It is constructed in super soft leather, with ankle and heel padding and a padded tongue. The ventilation system, developed in conjunction with NASA, helps to considerably reduce heat in the shoe while you pound the ground with it. Price: Rs 3,999.

The Puma Trionfo shoes are light and have been specifically designed for regular gymmers. Their unique asymmetrical laces ensure the foot doesn't fall asleep while running continuously on the treadmill. The split heel construction is extremely comfortable and light and provides additional cushioning. Price: 6,500 onwards.
