

INDIA FEVER

America just can't seem to get enough of India. Bollywood Hero, a three-part mini-series to be aired on the Independent Film Channel has been attracting attention, even though the reviews aren't good. Starring comedian Chris Kattan, it's a satire on a fading actor who grabs a part in a Bollywood musical to resurrect his career. Neha Dhupia (R) plays a superstar, supporting Kattan's antics. Now just don't expect an Oscar.

Q&A

"I really like Sharmila Tagore"

Nineteen-year-old Brazilian Giselli Monterio speaks no Hindi, yet in Love Aaj Kal she worked magic with her eyes, playing a Punjabi kudi.

Q. From Brazil to Bollywood?

A. I came to India to be a model. Eventually, I was sent to Imtiaz Ali. Within 20 days of being here, I had started shooting.

Q. How did you manage the typical Hindi heroine look?

A. Imtiaz showed me films from the 1960s and wanted me to see how actors like Sharmila Tagore glanced coyly and spoke with their eyes. She's my favourite actor now.

Q. Pick up any Punjabi?

A. Just a little. "Kudi" and "Chalo jaldi chalo".

FARROKH CHOTIA

Remembering the Time

Michael Jackson's influence on Bappi Lahiri (centre) is well documented. The music director is now collaborating with the King of Pop's associate Ricky Nelson for the first Indo-American tribute to the pop star. The song, Never Say Goodbye, will be released at the end of August and money from sales will be donated to children's welfare. Lahiri plans to release the music video as well. Lahiri even met the moonwalking star's family recently. He's not just about bling.

FOTOCORP

Party Hopping

Kumickaa Lall's tv career may not be going anywhere but she's certainly doing a lot of moving around in politics. A member of the Nationalist Congress Party for two-and-a-half years, she has now joined the Congress, to fulfil its dream of "growth and a good society". Lall adds that she's switched sides because of the inspiring presence of Sonia and Rahul Gandhi. "I'm not hankering after a ticket but if it does come my way, I'm not going to say no," she says. Of course you won't.

■ Compiled by Jhilmil Motihar

76 Volume XXXIV Number 33; For the week August 11-17, 2009, released on August 10

Our story has 3 sides

Har Angle se Mmmmm....

