

We have many milestones to our credit but our main focus is to ensure a better quality of life for the common man – the unsung aam aadmi. We are not merely the country's Number One State, but we also take care of the socially and economically disadvantaged and consciously try to maintain harmony between various communities.

Chief Minister, Ashok Chavan

Housing

Maharashtra has one more feather in its cap by framing the first-ever Housing Policy that promises 'home sweet home' for the common man. The Democratic Front

Government aims at providing 10 lakh houses to the Aam Aadmi of the state in two years to fulfill his long-cherished dream of owning a shelter.

No other state has ever formulated a housing policy like this before. The policy primarily focuses on rural families and promises to benefit people below the poverty line, among others. There is a 20% reservation for Lower Income Group, Marginal Income Group and Middle Income Group in every layout.

Houses worth Rs. 70,000 per unit will be provided to people living below the poverty line. Until now 1 lakh houses have been constructed under the Indira Awas Yojana. There are 44,000 houses under construction for rural people who are above the poverty line, but below Rs. 96,000 annual income under Rajiv Gandhi Grameen Nivara Yojana. Within the next 3 years the State aims to provide homes to everyone below the poverty line.

For slum dwellers in urban areas, 2.80 lakh tenements are to be constructed at the cost of Rs. 8,148 crore. It will be mandatory for the builder to sell them at carpet area rate.

The government has noted that many people live in dilapidated buildings which need immediate attention and pose huge threat to life. These can definitely not be neglected and the state has implemented a new initiative that will benefit the tenants who have been living in old building for many years. According to the new housing proposal, the government has decided to give 300 sq. ft. flat instead of 225 Sq. ft.

Mumbai is the hub of all financial and economic growth. People from all over India come to Mumbai in search of employment and to gain basic livelihood. Many times people don't have shelter because of the high housing rates. Thus there has always been a need for housing. Recognizing this, the Mumbai metropolitan region has taken an initiative on renting houses. 5 lakh houses are being constructed currently and will be rented out to needy people. This initiative is the first of its kind, in the nation.

10 lakh houses in coming 2 years

Scheme	Number of Houses
Rajiv Gandhi Grameen Nivara Yojana	2.50 lakh
JNNURM	2.50 lakh
Indira Awas Yojana	2.50 lakh
SRA	1.50 lakh
MHADA	1.00 lakh
Total	10.00 lakh

Infrastructure

The Democratic Front government in Maharashtra has identified infrastructure development as a thrust area. Infrastructure projects have been actively floated and funds have been successfully realized from the centre. As a result, the sector continues to gain importance.

Completed are 1367 km of road improvement, 97 bridges, 38 flyovers, 33 ROBs, and 95 km six lane expressway. Works of 1773 km road improvement, 20 major bridges/flyovers and improvement to 700 km Mumbai-Nagpur road are in progress. An additional 648 km 4-laning works are approved.

One more initiative is the acceleration of Maharashtra's economic development, which is being planned through clusterisation. The first cluster will be a triangle formed by Mumbai-Nasik-Pune and it is named as Golden Triangle. This will facilitate rejuvenation of existing industries in the entire triangle, service corridor of I.T., Biotech, healthcare and several agriculture economic zones in Pune & Nashik.

JNNURM

JNNURM mainly focuses on improving urban infrastructure, so as to cope with the rapid evolving urbanisation.

The main projects are being undertaken in Mumbai, Pune, Nashik, Nagpur and Thane. These projects mainly focus on water supply management, sewage management, betterment of roads, waste management project and, restoration of pumping stations.
