Enjoy Pure Luxury On Your Honeymoon

Just married and want to make her feel the princess she is, with no care for such a thing as 'budget'? If you want a slice of high-life or simply are accustomed to it, and expect the pinnacle of service, quality, and style, and experiences that are out of reach for the ordinary – it's all possible in Singapore. Pamper yourself in a lavish spa, shop the world's finest boutiques, score great seats to a hot new show, or enjoy the Singapore skyline from your penthouse suite in the sky – make it count!

Stay at the ultimate in luxury hotels, the Ritz-Carlton, which has 32 floors of unobstructed harbor and city views as well as sculptures by Frank Stella and limited-edition prints by David Hockney and Henry Moore. Check into a suites offering spectacular views of the Marina. Even the spacious marble-tiled bathroom have views, as the huge tubs are placed under four square metre octagonal picture windows so you can gaze as you bathe. Decadent!

For old-world opulence, Raffles is second to none. It has the trappings of modern luxury yet retains the unique charm of the colonial era. Over the years, it has welcomed many famous guests, attracted by the hotel's luxury and elegance including Somerset Maugham, Rudyard Kipling, Joseph Conrad and Charlie Chaplin. The 86 Raffles Hotel suites are charming showpieces of old world opulence. A stay at Raffles is more than a luxurious escape in the heart of a modern metropolis; it's a chance to tap in to Singapore's colonial spirit (and live out those Somerset Maugham fantasies).

Singapore is an indefatigable destination for its expertise in wellness treatments, luxurious or otherwise. Try out and treat yourself to a different spa everyday of your honeymoon here. The list of spas is unending. Singapore's most celebrated Amrita Spa at Raffles City is the largest luxury spa in Asia spread over three levels of spa and fitness facilities. The second, smaller Amrita Spa in the Raffles Hotel has a more intimate quality. The facility has six treatment rooms, VIP suites for couples (complete with private Jacuzzi, aroma steam bath, shower facility, and a lounge area), a picture-postcard relaxation verandah, and a swimming pool with a pool bar.
