

GRIPEN – THE INDEPENDENT CHOICE

IN AN UNCERTAIN WORLD

you need partners you can trust, that understand your situation and definitely deliver what you, and your nation require.

As a military non-aligned nation, Sweden understands better than anyone the necessity of an independent and autonomous air-force.

Gripen IN is the world's most technologically advanced multi-role fighter aircraft with futuristic warfare technologies developed specifically for India. It is the defining example of Sweden's long history of military independence.

In harmony with its enlarging role in world affairs and the global economy, India requires the highest levels of technology and the ability to develop and meet its future needs indigenously and independently.

Gripen's unique, independent origins give us the insight that others fail to gain, the absolute requirement for partnerships based on common ground, mutual understanding and long-term commitment.

Full customer insight into all levels of aircraft technology as well as unrivalled technological and knowledge transfer, allow Gripen's customer nations to enjoy full control and autonomy over their air force and their future as a nation.
