

YEAR
2008

When They BECAME US

By Kaveree Bamzai |

In a year where dreams shrunk to the size of reality, it was no accident that three of the biggest stars in Bollywood tried to be us. In Singh is Kinng, the year's biggest hit, Akshay Kumar played Happy Singh, a cheerful layabout most at home dancing at his buddy's wedding and chasing chickens around his village with goonda mundas. In Ghajini, Aamir Khan's genre-defining ultra-violent action film, he plays a tycoon, Sanjay Singhania, who discovers the pleasures of drinking tea from a saucer and taking an auto-rickshaw to a date. In Rab Ne Bana Di Jodi, Shah Rukh

ENTERTAINMENT

(CLOCKWISE FROM TOP)
AVIKA GOR OF BALIKA VADHU, DEV PATEL FROM SLUMDOG MILLIONAIRE, NASEERUDDIN SHAH IN A WEDNESDAY, AKSHAY
KUMAR, IMRAN KHAN

