

THE RISE AND FALL

- 1987: Raju founds Satyam with 20 employees
- 1992: Satyam goes public. IPO oversubscribed by 17 times, gets first offshore contract.
- 1999: Satyam Infoway (Sify) is the first Indian Internet company listed on NASDAQ. Satyam present in 30 countries.
- 2000: World Economic Forum identifies Satyam as one of the "100 leading pioneering technology companies"
- 2001: Satyam is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Becomes world's first ISO 9001:2000 certified IT company.
- 2003: Starts providing IT services to the World Bank
- 2005: Largest global development centre outside India (in Melbourne) begins operation; Citisoft and Knowledge Dynamics acquired
- 2006: Revenue exceeds $1 billion, sets up the first "Global Innovation Hub" in Singapore and operations in China
- 2007: World Bank probe finds former V-P Mohamed Muhsin had secured contracts worth $100 million for Satyam in return for company stock options (ADRs) at preferential prices
- 2008: Revenue crosses $2 billion. Satyam wins the Golden Peacock Award for Excellence in Corporate Governance.
- Dec 16 '08: Satyam announces plan to buy Maytas Infra and Maytas Properties, part-owned by the founders for $1.6 billion. Twelve hours later the deal is killed. Share price plunges 55 per cent.
- Dec 17, '08: Share prices fall by a third on concerns about corporate governance.
- Dec 23, '08: Barred from business with World Bank for eight years for providing Bank staff with "improper benefits". Share prices fall another 14 per cent to the lowest in over four years.
- Dec 26, '08: The lone independent director since 1991, Mangalam Srinivasan, resigns
- Dec 29, '08: Three more directors quit
- Jan 2, '09: Raju's stake falls by a third to 5.13 per cent
- Jan 5, '09: Shares tumble 9 per cent on concern that corporate governance issues could hit new business
- Jan 7, '09: Raju admits to fraud, resigns as chairman. MD B. Rama Raju also quits. Satyam shares fall by 54 per cent at Rs 83.
- Jan 8, '09: Raju arrested and sent to jail