

Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutions' rock-solid reputation for quality is further reinforced by the association with various international universities like, Wayne State University, USA; Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Bangkok; Washburn University and Indiana Wesleyan Online University under the 'student and faculty exchange' program. Breaking fresh grounds in the field of technical education in this region, BGIET has even introduced a "dual-B.Tech" degree program, wherein a student is eligible for pursuing the last two years of his or her course in Pittsburg State University. 15 students have been sent to the Pittsburg University so far. Further, some students are pursuing higher education at AIT, Bangkok also.

It will not be an exaggeration to state that the institutes of international repute get attracted to Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutes, because of its outstanding infrastructure and provision of world-class facilities. Bright and spacious, modern class rooms which are fully air-conditioned, high-tech laboratories with most-modern machines, a well-stacked three-storey-building library spanning across an area of whopping 36000 sq feet, along with separate library facility for each institute, Cafeteria, Bank facility inside the Campus, a well-equipped gymnasium, shopping arcade, separate hostels for boys and girls with facilities like, reading room, prayer room, internet cable running through the whole campus, (going to be Wi-Fi very soon) and transport and medical facilities are just a few of those things that add immense value to the education imparted here.

All institutes, under the aegis of 'Bhai Gurdas group of Institutions' are renowned for striking the right balance between maintaining discipline and an environment of invigorating spirit for learning. The exemplary faculty - a team of talented, dedicated and professionally qualified academicians - is there to ensure that the students, apart from doing well in their respective lines of academic disciplines, also participate in sports and extra-curricular activities while learning to maintain the spirit of healthy competition and discipline.

Believing in their faculty as the best "asset" for them, the management has provided a wide range of facilities to them including 'on-campus' accommodation in the form of fully furnished bachelor as well as family flats. Progressing passionately on a mission to achieve higher educational standards, Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutions, have recently brought into existence an institute in Rakhra (Patiala, located at the Nabha-Patiala road) offering MBA and Diploma courses and another one at Saharnpur-Delhi Highway offering MBA course at the moment!

Scripting another stupendous story of success:

Now a missile can be launched with just a press of a mobile-button! No, this is not an excerpt from a sci-fi book, but the actual story of Naveen Goel, a third year student of BGIET (B.Tech- Electronics and Communications) who plundered priceless words of admiration from India's top-notch scientists by creating an incredible 'mobile-missile' model, during his industrial training at CSIO, Chandigarh.
