

On Top of the Pops

She's an Indian pop star with an international twist. Singer Mehnaz, who topped the charts with Banungi Main Miss India, is now part of a band, Manooghi Hi, whose other members are American. "It's been my dream to be part of a band and perform live," says Mehnaz, who is now working on getting her entire band to India. This one's music knows no boundaries.

POLITICALLY ATTRACTIVE

Ruby Dhalla, a Canadian politician of Indian origin, has often been called the Indian Sarah Palin. She has made it to Hello magazine's list of 50 most beautiful Canadians. But this wouldn't surprise the MP, who's been rated the world's third hottest female politician in the past. Woman on top, eh?

Stage Flight

Konkana Sen Sharma is nursing boyfriend Ranvir Shorey. Not in real life though. The actress will soon occupy centre stage in Atul Kumar's play The Blue Mug where she plays a doctor. She will find comfort in the company of friends Rajat Kapoor and Vinay Pathak who also star in the production. A little work, a lot of play.

FACE-OFF

Farah Khan and Anu Malik will again bare their fangs in Sony's new reality show Entertainment Ke Liye Kuch Bhi Karega and do what they are best at—straight talking.

Whatever happened to Shekhar Kapur's Hollywood career? Nevertheless, the director will soon occupy the judge's chair on Colors' reality show India's Got Talent. Flanking him will be Kirron Kher and Sonali Bendre. It's an unusual trio but will it work?
