

DISCOVERY OF INDIA

Chandra Shekhar

1983

When Chandra Shekhar embarked on his Bharat Yatra, a cross-country marathon walk from Kanyakumari to Delhi, in 1983, he told INDIA TODAY: "I want to discover India, to see first hand the problems that the unknown Indian faces. I'm not a phenomenon. Fifteen crore people in our country are perennial padayatris."

PHOTOGRAPH BY: RAGHU RAI

RAZOR'S EDGE

Lalu Prasad Yadav

1995

Just before the 2005 Assembly elections in Bihar, INDIA TODAY put Lalu Prasad Yadav, who always plays out his cultivated rusticity with aplomb, on the cover and noted: "The badland mythology of Lalu can't be Bihar's longest horror story. And social justice can't forever be removed from social realism. So raise the lantern, the green lantern of the Rashtriya Janata Dal, that is the desperation of Lalu 2005."

PHOTOGRAPH BY: SHARAD SAXENA

