

IN DEEP THOUGHT

Giani Zail Singh

1990

He was the President of India during the infamous Operation Bluestar. In 1990, INDIA TODAY noted, "... what of the noontime darkness of 1979? Watering the Bhindranwale weed and then watching it metastasise. Zail Singh, too, played with history and it still sits in judgement over him with no final sentence." In a meditative pose at Rashtrapati Bhavan.
