

MAN ON A MISSION

Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale

1984

He died as spectacularly as he had lived and terrorised Punjab. INDIA TODAY reported his death in Operation Bluestar in these sombre tones: "Half-dried streams of blood streaked down its (a truck in the Kotwali police station) sides. A sub-inspector, tears in his eyes, asked me to look inside. There were bodies, at least a hundred, all Sikhs, killed in the past few hours in the Golden Temple. Less than 500 yards away lay the body of Sant Jarnail Singh Bhindranwale on slabs of ice. His last stand had cost nearly 1,500 lives." Here he blesses All-India Sikh Students Federation secretary Harjinder Singh Sandhu and his bride on their wedding at the Golden Temple.

PHOTOGRAPH BY: PRAMOD PUSHKARNA

“YOU DON'T HAVE A BEARD LIKE YOUR GODS AND PROPHETS. WHAT DO YOU CALL A CHILD WHO DOESN'T RESEMBLE HIS FATHER?”

J.S. BHINDRANWALE, Sikh leader