

It's time to rescue history from the present, recognise the importance of packaging our heritage and realise the urgency to preserve our environment. As Rajendra K. Pachauri says, the world cannot dictate how we will live with nature. Our traditions can tell us. All it takes is a little bit of public interest and a lot of state will for our world to be richer. In all this, as cricketing hero Rahul Dravid points out, we have to demand from ourselves and aim for excellence, always.

AP PHOTO

Going for gold: China invested in the Olympics and in the sportspeople participating in it

Promoting sporting success with corporate and individual support will foster NATIONAL PRIDE and prevent diseases of affluence