

15 L.N. MITTAL, Chairman and CEO, Arcelor Mittal. The richest Indian in the world, with an estimated wealth of over $45 billion, he holds steel assets in South Africa, Poland, Indonesia, and Kazakhstan. He is a member of the International Investment Council in South Africa and the World Economic Forum's International Business. He was awarded Padma Vibhushan in 2008.

16 NACHIKET MOR, Deputy Managing Director, ICICI Bank. He is responsible for rural banking, government banking and global markets. He is also on the boards of the Institute for Financial Management and Research, CARE, USA, and the International Food Policy Research Institute.

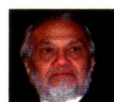

17 N.R. NARAYANA MURTHY, Chairman of the Board and Chief Mentor, Infosys Technologies. He was the brain behind the Global Delivery Model which gave a big boost to the Indian information technology industry. An exponent of corporate social responsibility, he was awarded the Padma Vibhushan in 2008.

18 RAJENDRA K. PACHAURI, Chairman, Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC). An economist and environmental scientist, Pachauri is also the director-general of The Energy and Resources Institute. He accepted the Nobel Peace Prize on behalf of the IPCC in 2008.

19 ROHINI PANDE, Mohammed Kamal Professor of Public Policy, Kennedy School, Harvard University. She has also taught at Yale University, MIT, and Columbia University. Her research focuses on the economic analysis of politics and consequences of different forms of redistribution, principally in developing countries.

20 BHIKHU PAREKH, Professor of Political Philosophy, University of Westminster. A Labour member of the House of Lords, UK, he is also a fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and of the Academy of the Learned Societies for Social Sciences. He was honoured with the Padma Bhushan in 2007.

21 MEDHA PATKAR, Social Activist. She left her position on the faculty of the Tata Institute of Social Sciences and joined the tribal and peasant communities in Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Gujarat and led the Narmada Bachao Andolan. She is founder of the National Alliance of People's Movement.

22 SAM PITRODA, Chairman, National Knowledge Commission. The founder chairman of World-Tel Ltd is best known for helping revolutionise telecommunications in India during his tenure as chief technology adviser to the then prime minister Rajiv Gandhi.

23 C.K. PRAHALAD, Professor of Corporate Strategy, Ross School of Business, University of Michigan. A globally-respected professor, speaker, author and management consultant, his book, The Fortune at the Bottom of the Pyramid: Eradicating Poverty through Profits, is a seminal influence on many modern capitalists.

24 AZIM H. PREMJI, Chairman and CEO of Wipro. Under his leadership, the $2-million hydrogenated cooking fat company, Wipro, has grown into a $5 billion IT services organisation. A graduate in electrical engineering from Stanford University, USA, Premji was honoured with the Padma Bhushan in 2005.

25 SWATI RAMANATHAN, Co-founder, Janaagraha. She is chairperson of India's largest urban conference, India Urban Space, which focuses on policy, infrastructure and planning. She chaired the working group on participatory planning appointed by the Ministry of Urban Development.

26 AJAI SAHNI, Executive Director, Institute for Conflict Management. He has done extensive research on terrorism and low-intensity warfare in the Indian subcontinent, and is the co-editor (with K.P.S. Gill) of Faultlines: Writings on Conflict and Resolution.

27 TRILOCHAN SASTRY, Professor, IIM-Bangalore. A founder member of the Association for Democratic Reforms, he has published several papers in international journals on topics related to operations research, supply chain management, telecommunications, software and automobile industry.

28 SIDDHARTH D. SHANGHVI, Writer. His book, The Last Song of Dusk, won the Betty Trask Award, the UK's most prestigious award for debut novels, and Italy's Premio Grinzane Cavour. His new novel, The Lost Flamingoes of Bombay, long-listed for the Man Asian Literary Prize, will be published in December.

29 SHYLASHRI SHANKAR, Fellow, Centre for Policy Research, New Delhi. She has been a consultant for the World Bank, the International Fund for Agricultural Development and the WHO. Her forthcoming book is Scaling Justice: India's Supreme Court, Anti-Terror Laws, and Social Rights.

30 JAGDISH N. SHETH, Professor of Marketing, Goizueta Business School, Emory University. He is a renowned scholar, a world authority in the field of marketing and has published more than 200 books and research papers in different areas of marketing and business strategy.

31 E. SREEDHARAN, MD, Delhi Metro. He has been instrumental in ensuring that the construction of the Delhi Metro railway was completed ahead of schedule and without cost overruns. He was honoured with the Padma Shri in 2001. He is also a recipient of the French Chevalier de la Legion d' Honneur.

32 SANJAY SUBRAHMANYAM, Professor, Department of History, University of California, Los Angeles. He became the first holder of the Chair in Indian History and Culture at the University of Oxford in 2002. He is also the joint managing editor of the quarterly Indian Economic and Social History Review.

33 RAVI SUNDARAM, Fellow, Centre for the Study of Developing Society (CSDS). He was one of the initiators of the Sarai programme of the CSDS, examining the emerging inter-media junctions in Indian cities. His forthcoming book is After Media: Pirate Culture and the Urban Experience.