Gwalior

Prepare to be overwhelmed by royalty.
Discover the Gwalior Fort that towers over the city. Watch the glorious past relive itself at Jai Vilas Palace, one half of which is open to tourists and hosts treasures of the royal family. End the evening at the Sound and Light show at the Man Mandir Palace. Get a good night's sleep before you head to Orchha.

Orchha

Begin your tour at the domed pavilions of Jehangir Mahal, built to welcome Emperor Jehangir. Savour the colourful murals at the adjoining Raja Mahal. Drop by at the landscaped gardens of Rai Praveen Mahal and climb up to the massive stone platform of the Chaturbhuj Temple. Go rafting on the river Betwa and watch the beautiful Chhatris pass by. Do attend the evening aarti at the Ram Raja Temple before you head to the erotic temples of Khajuraho.

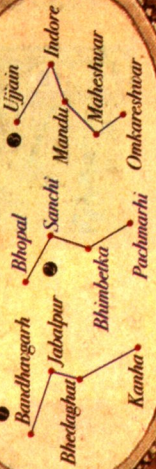

Khajuraho

Panna

A half hour drive from Khajuraho is the Panna National Park. Extending over 543 km, along the River Ken, the park has dense teak forests. Catch a glimpse of the elusive Tiger, Leopard, Wolf, Chital, Blue Bull, Chinkara, Chousingha and the Indian Fox. Take pictures, listen to birds, and wind up your journey in the lap of nature.
