

SRM UNIVERSITY

Excellence Education for a Globalised era

From days of yore, education in India has been a very integral part of one's life. Indian culture is steeped in education of different types—from the age old Gurukul system to the modern Montessori methods. Traditionally, education in India is looked upon by everyone as a holistic experience.

Education has progressed beyond the open air classrooms to structured classrooms to distance and online education systems; but the core values and attributes have always remained same—that of imparting knowledge from the seniors to the juniors, from the teachers to the students, from parents to children, from the gurus to the shishyas.

Organisations like the University Grants Commission controls and maintains higher education in India. Their main aim is to keep the quality of education on par with those of international standards. Be it medical, engineering or any type of professional education, the quality has remained top class in most Indian Institutions

University life, as they say, is an unforgettable experience—a phase in one's growth that shapes one's destiny. Studies alone do not help mould one's character. It is the institution, its location, its facilities and ambience that aid in the overall character development of a student.

Engineering Education in India

There's nothing in the world you can't engineer. Engineering is no longer bound by the traditional image of a man in a safety helmet, notepad in hand. Possibilities abound in every sphere—astrophysical, energy and even biological. India has some of the best engineering institutions in the world that offer very affordable education, but of the best quality.

When one walks into the vast and verdant campus of SRM University at Kattankulathur, Chennai, you are immediately attracted to the welcoming open spaces in the 350 acre campus housing their flagship SRM Engineering College. Absolutely serene and peaceful, the pollution-free and eco-friendly campus is designed to ensure learning does not drive you around the bend.

The Ramapuram Campus in Chennai and the Modi Nagar Campus in Delhi reflect the trend set by the one at Kattankulathur. Therefore, it is indeed no surprise to find that many students prefer to stay on the campus. The food is hygienic, tasty and nutritious and the hostels are comfortable with well-furnished rooms.

A dream, realised

The educational venture is a dream brought to reality by a life dedicated to education. First and foremost a teacher, it was Mr. T.R. Pachamuthu's outlook that made him understand his students and help build an environment to foster growth, learning and self-knowledge. As the founding chairman and chancellor of SRM University, the crowning moment for Pachamuthu was when the Deemed University attained the status of a full-fledged University, enabling it to offer programs covering the entire spectrum of education, in all disciplines, at all levels. Says Pachamuthu, "Just covering the curriculum of the University today, will not do, because of our challenging life in a competitive environment. When our students graduate, we need to give them not only practical skills but also equip them to stand out among others."
