

We've been adding a touch of pink

In a world facing newer health challenges every day, we have been working to serve it better as a complete healthcare company. Developing advanced products and services based on thorough research, so every innovation promises a healthier future.

This spirit of discovery, enterprise and caring is reflected in our new logo.

To our strengths of research and innovation, we have added a new messenger in pink. An envoy of good health flying out to ensure that more faces glow with the touch of pink - the touch of health.
