

REUTERS

DHONI

26

27, Cricketer, 35

Captain Cool

Because under his leadership, India won the T20 World Cup and he is now captain of India in all three forms of the game.

Because he has become the country's most sellable cricketer after Sachin Tendulkar, endorsing 15 brands, from clothes to cold drinks.

Because he is nobody's puppet, ticking off the national selectors this season for leaks from the selection meeting.

touch of class Won heaps of praise for his graciousness during the retirements of Anil Kumble and Sourav Ganguly last season.

latest acquisition A Hummer to add to the four cars and 17 high-speed motorcycles already parked in his garage in Ranchi.

smart move Broke away from the sports marketing agency that had signed him on, to join a new company, Mindspace India.

K.V.
KAMATH

27

62, Banker 13

Banking on Trust

Because a lesser mortal would not have been able to protect ICICI Bank from the heat of the global meltdown.

Because everyone from Prime Minister Manmohan Singh to P. Chidambaram to Montek Singh Ahluwalia spoke up for him during the crisis and every corporate chieftain worth his market cap vouched for the integrity of the bank.

Because ICICI is the largest private insurance company, the topmost private equity player, the number one online broking outfit and the leader in retail credit, with total assets of Rs 3.74 lakh crore and a group income of Rs 62,000 crore.

milestone 2009 Will be chairman from May 1, but his salary will take a big hit.

is sure to be Following tennis and F1 racing.

JMESH GOSWAMI