

VENUGOPAL DHOOT

36

55, Industrialist 39

The Right Connect

Because despite the slowdown, he is expanding in every direction with Videocon launching its own DTH service in April, mobile telephony service by July, kickstarting 10 oil-fields in Brazil with Petrobras, investing in coal mines in Indonesia and building three power projects in West Bengal, Gujarat and Chhattisgarh.

Because the price warrior of the consumer electronics business will tote up group revenues of over Rs 19,000 crore this year, with Next becoming India's largest electronics goods retail chain with 1,100 stores, and investments in the new big thing, energy.

Because he has a phalanx of stars at his beck and call.

magic moment When Prime Minister Manmohan Singh called Videocon the proud face of Global India.

hidden talent Can recite shlokas and expound on the Bhagavad Gita. Also plays the flute.

YASBANT NEGI

BABA RAMDEV

37

35, Yoga Guru 46

Fast and Furious

Because Season II of the IPL promises to be bigger, bulkier and better, establishing the potent mix of big business, Bollywood and India's most powerful sport.

Because he's forever controversial, whether it is for his proximity to politicians or his confrontationist stand against cricket's Old Powers.

Because IPL's success has "persuaded" otherwise reluctant nations into agreeing to a window for a T20 club event to keep their players happy.

reality check His mentor Vasundhara Raje lost the Rajasthan Assembly elections and he was defeated in the Rajasthan Cricket Association's elections.

management style Micro. Is particular about who gets VIP tickets, mostly allocating them himself.

wants IPL to become Like F1, Wimbledon, Super Bowl.

LALIT
MODI

38

loves to Compose what people say are the longest emails ever received from a BlackBerry.

45, Businessman 29

PURUSHOTTAM DIWAKAR

Telly Yogi

Because his followers continue to grow, as he acquires the Aastha channel that gets him 20 million viewers daily, conducts international camps and takes off on yoga cruises at $1,000 ticket a head.

Because he is the richest yogi, having collected Rs 500 crore so far through his camps, and has celebrity fans ranging from Lalu Prasad Yadav to Kangna Ranaut.

his latest conquest The IIM-A, where he talked about Indian values in modern management techniques.

believe it or not Insists breathing exercises can regenerate destroyed cells and help the HIV-positive recover.