

on building a temple in Ayodhya ("Muslims In Revolt", March 9). The political parties, national or regional, haven't done anything substantial for the Muslim community to reap rich rewards in the electoral season. They have thrived solely on empty promises.

K.V. RAGHURAM,
via www.indiatoday.in

Devil's Advocate

The Talibanisation of Pakistan paints an alarming picture of the rise of the terror group in the Swat Valley and the Pakistan Government's abject surrender to lawless jihadi elements ("March of the Taliban", March 2). These men are not only running their administration, but also arbitrarily meting out barbaric punishments. There seems an unsaid pact between the Government and the Taliban. Pakistan's army has complete knowledge of the situation too. In promoting the Taliban, the Pakistan Government is digging its own grave.

R.J. KHURANA,
via www.indiatoday.in

Evil Deal

Pakistan with its protracted history of military rule, lacks definitive and mature democratic traditions ("A Question of Answers", March 2). The Army and the intelligence agencies dominate, and to some extent, overrule the Government. Due to the impact of religious fundamentalists, Pakistan is getting torn between polarising forces. Pakistan has always disowned responsibility for incursions and terrorist attacks emanating from its soil due to ignorance, helplessness or trivial technicalities. It has become more or less its habit. It must act to control the extremists who use Pakistan as a safe haven to carry ians", February 23). Our parliamentarians are richer than those who are mentioned in the Forbes' list. Affluence and opulence are the main criteria for contesting and winning elections. Our elected representatives prefer to help themselves and not those who have elected them.

P. KRISHNA CHAITANYA,
via www.indiatoday.in

Corrigendum

The report "Warming Up to Change", March 16, wrongly described Dr R.K.

MANDAR DEODHAR

The Government should devise ways to keep gold prices steady so that the common man finds it easy to invest in gold in some form as it yields maximum returns.

SUBHASH CHANDRA AGRAWAL, via www.indiatoday.in out such gruesome acts. RAJENDRA K. ANEJA, via www.indiatoday.in

Money Power

The INDIA TODAY team deserves special acknowledgement for laying bare the treasure-trove of our esteemed lawmakers on the eve of the 15th General Elections ("Rich Politic-

Pachauri as a member of Al Gore's Nobel Prize-winning team. Dr Pachauri is the Chairman of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, which was the co-winner of the Nobel Prize for Peace in 2007. The error is regretted. EDITOR

30
YEARS AGO IN INDIA
TODAY

APRIL 16-30, 1979

Out of The Woods

Sanjay Gandhi's battle-scarred Youth Congress (YC-I) is launching a big offensive to revitalise itself after two years of dormancy. The most important objective of the elaborate, well-thought-out programme is to combat the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) which the YC(I) considers its prime enemy. Secret instructions have gone out from Sanjay Gandhi to YC(I) units to organise shakhas of their own wherever the RSS is holding its shakhas. Organisationally, the YC(I), which came under a cloud after the debacle in the 1977 General Elections, has now been granted autonomy by the Congress(I) high command and given orders to march ahead. Its leaders are presently busy organising various camps and training programmes for their cadres and are trying to project a new image of the organisation.

Arul B. Louis with Amarnath K. Menon

SANJAY
GANDHI

Readers are recommended to make appropriate enquiries before sending money, incurring expenses or entering into commitments in relation to any advertisement appearing in this publication. The India Today Group does not vouch for any claims made by the advertisers of products and services. The printer, publisher, editor-in-chief and the editor of the India Today Group publications shall not be held liable for any consequences in the event of such claims not being honoured by the advertisers.

E-MAIL YOUR LETTERS TO: letters.editor@intoday.com

FAX THEM TO: 011-23316180

OR LOG ON TO: www.indiatoday.in