

Friends in Deed

Farah Khan's fondness for best buddy Shah Rukh Khan is well-documented. The director and Nach Baliye judge recently made her TV serial debut for an episode of Ghar Ki Baat Hai, a Red Chillies Idiot Box production. Yes, the same company that Shah Rukh owns. "I did it for my friend. It was just a day's work. I had to play myself and it was fun," says Farah. This isn't a first for Shah Rukh's show. Juhi Chawla visited the house some time ago and more stars will follow. Friends are forever, eh?

Button Replay

Move over Benjamin Button. Akshay Kumar can age backwards too. The actor will play a character who is born a 62-year-old and ages to become a 26-year-old in Vipul Shah's Action Replay. "After three months we have finally achieved the look and will start shooting soon," says Shah. A team of make-up artists led by Paul Pattison of Mission Impossible 2 will work their magic brush on Kumar.

SHRIYA PATIL SHINDE

"I play a Punjabi girl who is happy about going to Canada. The film shows how people's lives get intertwined on a ship."

Shriya Saran, actor, on Deepa Mehta's Komagata Maru, inspired by reality

MISTRESS OF SPICES

Best remembered as the photographer in the John Abraham-starrer Kabul Express, American actor Linda Arsenio is hoping her latest Bollywood film will click. The Texas girl will soon be seen in Aloo Chaat that also marks the debut of Aamna Sharif. Arsenio, who's daring to bare in a bikini in the film, has been learning Hindi so her roles don't get restricted. "I play an American girl, Niki, who is visiting India. She is responsible for the comic scenarios in the film," says the actor. Wonder who'll have the last laugh.
