Step out of the formal boardroom look in a suit to a more relaxed look in a blazer. A blazer is a coat that on its own may be teamed with khakis or jeans for a semi-formal or a casual look.

Blazers have their origin in 1800's when scarlet coats were worn by the student members of a boat club in Cambridge. They were set to look ablaze, hence the name.

Pair up your blazer with a relaxed solid shirt and a smart watch to be the consummate "cool operator", or at least to look like one. For the "Boy next door look" all you need is to loosen up the tie, wear a sweater under your blazer and slip on a pair of canvas shoes.
