For 3,923 of the total of 5,353 respondents who say they have had sex.

"The number of players is not important. Two or above, like Monopoly."

"So, like the woman who married the Eiffel Tower?"

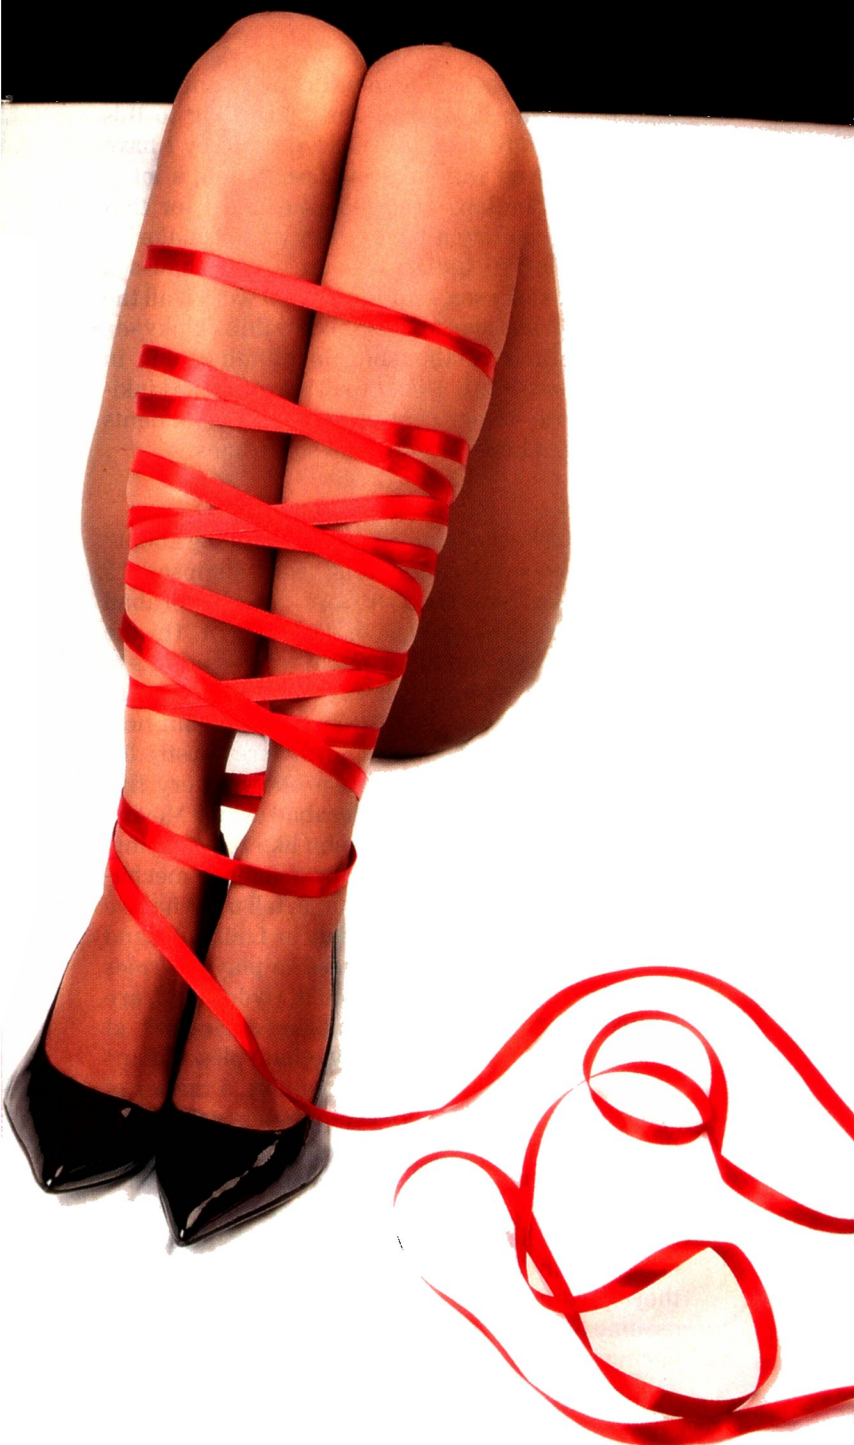

"Ah, Erika La Tour Eiffel. A good friend of mine. You do know, of course, that she used to be in a relationship with a bow? She became a world-class archer as a result. But no; when the prop or costume becomes the object of sexual desire, not an aid to sex, then it's a fetish, not a kink."

"Like Zoran Nikolovic from Belgrade, who needed surgery after he had sex with a hedgehog?" you ask, amazing yourself with your own general knowledge.

"No," he replies, cracking his whip. "And I see, you like reading weird sex news on the Internet. I like. Enough talk."

Your chemistry teacher from school enters the room, dressed as Catwoman, carrying a doctor's kit and a big jar full of a blue, bubbling liquid. 'You've been very, very, naughty,' she says.

If you did not find the passage above incred-
