An IIT and IIM graduate who saw the future in low cost retail. Two hoteliers who have made restoration the core of their growing empire. A woman who caught the beauty boom at the right time. Two brothers who understood the transformative power of reality television in small-town India. Three friends who believed that partying would become a profession in itself. And a former corporate executive who turned a stray reflection into an Internet portal with 15 million registered users. These are men and women who embody what iconic investor Warren Buffet once said: "Someone's sitting in the shade today because someone planted a tree a long time ago." Make that a short time ago.
