"My father Behram Irani who gave me the opportunity to make my own mistakes and learn."

biggest OBSTACLE

Getting the apt people and building the right team for his company

ADITHYAN K. SCARVIA

and plumbing services, carpentry and landscape maintenance.

Handiman has annual maintenance contracts of 70 housing complexes in Bangalore and 350 corporate clients including Volvo, Caterpillar and Vodafone. It has a 24/7 toll free number, on which anybody can call up for any kind of job, from fixing a leaking tap to polishing a floor. The company has a team of 4,500 technicians and engineers and is present in Hyderabad, Mumbai, Chennai and Pune. "In a couple of years, we're looking at a pan-Indian presence in 23 locations and by 2012, I'll be expanding to Dubai and Colombo. Also, I have to realise my dream of launching an IPO," he says. A fitness freak, Irani doesn't believe in late hours and spends free time with his wife Natasha and sons, Yohan, 7, and Zaran, 4. But at work, everyday is a battle to organise his 5,500 employees to provide quality service. "My products are people. Goodwill, therefore, is very important." He's certainly earned it. by Swagata Sen
